Joint Legislative Committee on Performance Evaluation and Expenditure Review (PEER)

Report to the Mississippi Legislature

A Compilation of State Entities' Expenditures for Independent Contractors in FY 2006

PEER reviewed expenditures of state agencies, public school districts, community and junior colleges, and public universities for independent contractors for Fiscal Year 2006. For purposes of this review, PEER defined an independent contractor as an individual, firm, corporation, or other service provider employed by a state entity through a contractual agreement who does not meet the definition of a contract worker. A contract worker performs services subject to the direction and control of an employer, whereas this element of control is absent with an independent contractor.

PEER found that state entities are subject to varying degrees of centralized oversight of expenditures for independent contractors. State agencies are subject to requirements of the Personal Service Contract Review Board and the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning must approve universities' personal service contracts that exceed a cumulative total of $250,000. However, no centralized oversight exists for school districts' and community and junior colleges' procurement and utilization of independent contractors.

Overall, 328 entities reported that they spent $1,958,912,988 on independent contractors during FY 2006. The majority (56%) of entities' FY 2006 expenditures for independent contractors were in the Construction or Building Repair Services Category. Landscape or Lawn Care Services was the second highest category. Within this category, the Department of Transportation reports to have spent approximately $159,000,000 (86% of the total spent in this category) on emergency relief measures, mainly due to Hurricane Katrina.

The PEER Committee produced this report as a tool for decisionmaking. The purpose of the report was to establish the universe of total dollars spent on independent contractors in FY 2006 by state agencies, universities, community and junior colleges, and public school districts. The report does not evaluate individual expenditures or address the policy issue of public entities' use of independent contractors.

PEER: The Mississippi Legislature's Oversight Agency

The Mississippi Legislature created the Joint Legislative Committee on Performance Evaluation and Expenditure Review (PEER Committee) by statute in 1973. A joint committee, the PEER Committee is composed of seven members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker and seven members of the Senate appointed by the Lieutenant Governor. Appointments are made for four-year terms with one Senator and one Representative appointed from each of the U. S. Congressional Districts. Committee officers are elected by the membership with officers alternating annually between the two houses. All Committee actions by statute require a majority vote of four Representatives and four Senators voting in the affirmative.

Mississippi's constitution gives the Legislature broad power to conduct examinations and investigations. PEER is authorized by law to review any public entity, including contractors supported in whole or in part by public funds, and to address any issues that may require legislative action. PEER has statutory access to all state and local records and has subpoena power to compel testimony or the production of documents.

PEER provides a variety of services to the Legislature, including program evaluations, economy and efficiency reviews, financial audits, limited scope evaluations, fiscal notes, special investigations, briefings to individual legislators, testimony, and other governmental research and assistance. The Committee identifies inefficiency or ineffectiveness or a failure to accomplish legislative objectives, and makes recommendations for redefinition, redirection, redistribution and/or restructuring of Mississippi government. As directed by and subject to the prior approval of the PEER Committee, the Committee's professional staff executes audit and evaluation projects obtaining information and developing options for consideration by the Committee. The PEER Committee releases reports to the Legislature, Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and the agency examined.

The Committee assigns top priority to written requests from individual legislators and legislative committees. The Committee also considers PEER staff proposals and written requests from state officials and others.

A Compilation of State Entities' Expenditures for Independent Contractors in FY 2006

Executive Summary

PEER reviewed state entities' expenditures on independent contractors for Fiscal Year 2006, focusing on answering the following questions:

- To what extent do state entities use independent contractors?
- Which entities use independent contractors and at what costs?

For purposes of this review, PEER defined an independent contractor as an individual, firm, corporation, or other service provider employed by a state entity through a contractual agreement who does not meet the definition of a contract worker. (A contract worker performs services subject to the direction and control of an employer, whereas this element of control is absent with an independent contractor.)

The report includes a series of exhibits presenting data reported by state agencies, public school districts, community and junior colleges, and public universities in response to a PEER survey. PEER identified only the amounts expended by each entity in these groups and the independent contractors receiving payments. PEER does not offer any opinion, positive or negative, regarding these expenditures.

Conclusions

PEER found that state entities are subject to varying degrees of centralized oversight of expenditures for independent contractors. State agencies are subject to requirements of the Personal Service Contract Review Board and the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning must approve universities' personal service contracts that exceed a cumulative total of $250,000. However, no centralized oversight exists for school districts' and community and junior colleges' procurement and utilization of independent contractors.

Overall, 328 entities reported that they spent $1,958,912,988 on independent contractors during FY 2006. The majority (56%) of entities' FY 2006 expenditures for independent contractors were in the Construction or Building Repair Services Category. Landscape or Lawn Care Services was the second highest category. Within this category, the Department of Transportation reports to have spent approximately $159,000,000 (86% of the total spent in this category) on emergency relief measures, mainly due to Hurricane Katrina.

During Fiscal Year 2006, 225 independent contractors each received more than $1 million from all groups combined (i.e., state agencies, school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities).

A Compilation of State Entities' Expenditures for Independent Contractors in FY 2006

Introduction

Authority

The PEER Committee conducted this review in response to concerns regarding the extent of use of independent contractors by state agencies, school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities.

This report is intended to be a companion to PEER report #484, A Review of State Agencies' Use of Contract Workers (December 15, 2005). PEER conducted this review pursuant to the authority granted by MISS. CODE ANN. Section 5-3-51 et seq. (1972).

Scope and Purpose

Purpose

PEER reviewed state entities' expenditures on independent contractors for Fiscal Year 2006, focusing on answering the following questions:

- To what extent do state entities use independent contractors?
- Which entities use independent contractors and at what costs?

See pages 5 and 6 of this report for the definition of independent contractor.

Scope

This review includes data collected from state agencies, public school districts, community and junior colleges, and public universities. (Hereafter, when PEER refers to all of these as a group, the report will refer to "entities.")

The focus of this review is on independent contractors hired by these entities. This review does not include employment of any persons into legislatively authorized positions or payments to individuals who meet the Internal Revenue Service's definition of contract worker (see pages 5 and 6).

Scope Limitation

PEER identified only the amounts expended by each entity in the above groups and the independent contractors receiving payments. PEER does not offer any opinion, positive or negative, regarding these expenditures.

Method

Primary Data Collection Method

As its primary method of data collection, PEER surveyed 328 entities. In responding to the survey, entities were asked to exclude payments to individuals, firms, corporations, or service providers that:

- have or will receive an Internal Revenue Service Form W2;
- only provided utility service;
- only provided commodities; or,
- did not fall within the categories listed on the PEER survey.

After excluding the above-described payments, the entities were asked to provide information on payments to independent contractors in two different formats.

• In Survey One, entities were asked to categorize and report Fiscal Year 2006 expenditures for independent contractors, using twenty-three PEERcreated service categories for reporting. In Survey Two, each entity official was asked to provide PEER with a list of the twenty-five independent contractors to which the entity paid the highest amounts during Fiscal Year 2006, as well as independent contractors to which their entity paid more than $100,000 and that did not appear in the list of the top twenty-five. (For example, an entity could have had expenditures that were accurately categorized into PEER's service categories that resulted in a list of thirty-five independent contractors paid more than $100,000. Entity officials were asked to submit to PEER the names of and amounts paid to all thirty-five independent contractors.)

Parent-Subunit Collection

PEER recognizes that some state entities have organizational or management responsibilities for or control over other entities or budget units. For example, the Department of Mental Health is responsible for Hudspeth Regional Center, even though the center receives a line-item amount in the department's annual appropriation from the Legislature.

In order to account accurately for state entities' expenditures for independent contractors, PEER collected consolidated data from the "parent" entity in instances in which there were entities with "subunits." For a listing of parent entities and their subunits, see Appendix B, page 63.

Limitations in Data Collection

Self-Reported Data

The data in this report concerning state entities' expenditures on independent contractors is strictly self-reported data. Due to the number of entities surveyed, time limitations, and limited number of staff assigned to the project, PEER did not verify or audit the information reported.

Also, the scope of this survey crosses functional boundaries--i.e., state agency, public school district, community and junior college, and university groups—and no single chart of accounts is uniform to all four groups of entities (i.e., entity groups may not use the same accounting codes or descriptions to report expenditures). Therefore, service category expenditure data reported by one type of entity (e.g., a state agency) might not be completely comparable to service category expenditure data reported by another type of entity (e.g., a university).

Officials at the surveyed entities were responsible for deciding how to categorize their FY 2006 expenditures into the twenty-three PEER-created account categories. Also, as noted previously, certain exceptions were to be taken into consideration that dictated whether expenditures should be reported. Again, this decision was left to the entity officials' discretion.

Hurricane Katrina Expenditures

As a result of Hurricane Katrina in August 2005, expenditures in certain categories rose exponentially in Fiscal Year 2006 for many state entities—e.g., in the Construction and Building Repair Services and Landscape and Lawn Care Services categories. Due to the breadth and depth of the destruction and the wide scope of PEER's survey, it was impossible to identify accurately which expenditures were hurricane-related. PEER cautions the reader to keep this fact in mind when reviewing state entities' expenditures for independent contractors.

Other Methods Used in the Review

Also, in conducting this review, PEER:

- reviewed state laws regarding the statewide personnel system, the Personal Service Contract Review Board, and other relevant state laws;
- reviewed the Personal Service Contract Review Board Procurement Procedures manual;
- reviewed the Mississippi State Personnel Board Policy and Procedures Manual;
- interviewed human resources and contract management staff from various state agencies;
- interviewed staff of the Mississippi State Personnel Board; and,
- interviewed staff of the Department of Finance and Administration.

Background

MISS. CODE ANN. Section 25-9-120 (1972) contains references to contract personnel. This section limits the state benefits to which contract personnel (i.e., contract workers and independent contractors) are entitled. Specifically, subsection (1) states that contract personnel are not eligible to participate in the Public Employees' Retirement System or the state employee health plan and are not allowed credit for personal and sick leave and other leave benefits as employees of the State of Mississippi.

Subsection (1) of MISS. CODE ANN. Section 25-9-120 (1972) distinguishes between an independent contractor and a contract worker. Under this statute, an employee who does not meet the criteria to be an independent contractor is considered to be a contract worker. The distinction is important for federal tax purposes because the employer is generally responsible for withholding federal income taxes and withholding and paying Social Security and Medicare taxes and paying unemployment taxes on wages paid to employees (contract workers), while independent contractors are responsible for paying their own income and self-employment taxes. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) establishes the guidelines for determining whether an individual is an independent contractor or a contract worker.

What is an Independent Contractor?

When a state entity enters into contract with a worker who is not a full-time employee, a determination must be made as to whether this worker functions as an independent contractor or contract worker. To determine whether an individual is an independent contractor or a contract worker, the relationship of the worker and the employer must be examined.

In any independent contractor/contract worker determination, one must consider all information that provides evidence of degree of control and degree of independence. Factors that provide evidence of the degree of control exercised by the employer and independence of the worker fall into three categories: behavioral control, financial control, and the type of relationship of the parties. In Publication 15-A, Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide, the Internal Revenue Service provides guidelines for entities to follow in order to make a determination of degree of control and degree of independence. (See Appendix C, page 66, for a list of these factors.) In general, if the employer has the right to control or direct only the result of the work done by the employee and not the means and methods of accomplishing the results, then that employee is functioning as an independent contractor.

PEER's Expanded Definition of Independent Contractor

According to the Personal Service Contract Review Board, an employee is any person legally occupying a position in state service. Due to the fact that contract personnel are excluded from state service, under the State of Mississippi's definition, an individual employed by the state through a contractual agreement who does not meet the definition of a contract worker is considered to be an independent contractor.

In terms of an independent contractor, the Internal Revenue Service's regulations and Personal Service Contract Review Board's policies and procedures typically refer to individual workers. However, for the purposes of this report, PEER expanded the definition of independent contractor to include firms, corporations, and other service providers, as well as payments to individuals. PEER's survey asked state entities to report expenditures to independent contractors based on PEER's expanded definition.

Degree of Centralized Oversight Entities Have for Independent Contractors

Entities are subject to varying degrees of centralized oversight of expenditures for independent contractors. State agencies are subject to requirements of the Personal Service Contract Review Board and the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning must approve universities' personal service contracts that exceed a cumulative total of $250,000. However, no centralized oversight exists for school districts' and community and junior colleges' procurement and utilization of independent contractors.

State Agencies

The Personal Service Contract Review Board is responsible for approving contracts entered into by state agencies that are under its purview.

Responsibilities of the Personal Service Contract Review Board

MISS. CODE ANN. §25-9-120 (2)(1972) creates the Personal Service Contract Review Board. Among other powers and responsibilities, this section requires that the board:

- promulgate rules and regulations governing the solicitation and selection of contractual services personnel;
- approve all personal and professional services contracts involving the expenditure of funds in excess of $100,000;
- develop standards with respect to contractual services personnel that require invitations for public bid, requests for proposals, record keeping, and financial responsibility of contractors; and,
- provide standards for the issuance of requests for proposals, the evaluation of proposals received, consideration of costs and quality of services proposed, contract negotiations, the administrative monitoring of contract performance by the agency, and successful steps in terminating a contract.

Contract Dollar Limits Requiring Approval of the Contract Review Board

As required by state law, the Personal Service Contract Review Board has established rules and regulations for the solicitation and selection of contractual service personnel. The board has set the following approval requirements based on the value of the contract:

- Contracts of $50,000 or less: Agencies shall adopt operational procedures for entering into personal services contracts of $50,000 or less. Such operational procedures shall provide for obtaining adequate and reasonable competition and making records to account properly for funds and to facilitate auditing of the transaction. The board does not review these contracts.
- Contracts greater than $50,000 but not exceeding $100,000: Agencies shall, at a minimum, solicit three written responses, which shall be made a part of the procurement file. The written responses shall, at a minimum, include the following information: statement of price; terms of the agreement; description of services offered by the contractor; and name, address, and telephone number of the offerer (i.e., potential contractor or vendor). In the event that the agency does not obtain three responses, the agency shall include a memorandum to the procurement file explaining why. The board does not review these contracts.
- Contracts exceeding $100,000: Agencies shall procure personal services contracts with a value exceeding $100,000 through the use of competitive sealed bidding or proposals. The board's rules and regulations include specific requirements regarding public notice, bid opening, and bid acceptance and evaluation. The board and its staff must review and approve personal services contracts exceeding $100,000.

The Personal Service Contract Review board has interpreted state law to mean a cumulative value in excess of $100,000. For example, an agency could enter into a contract with an individual to provide a service for a total of $50,000 in one fiscal year. Such a contract would not be subject to the approval of the review board. Should the agency choose to renew the contract for an additional fiscal year for $51,000, resulting in a two-year contract for $101,000, the contract would be subject to the approval of the review board.

The board's rules and regulations also provide for solesource and emergency procurement without competition when a need for such exists. Agencies using such method must document in writing the circumstances surrounding the selection of a personal services contractor though a non-competitive process.

Contracts Exempt from the Purview of the Personal Service Contract Review Board

MISS. CODE ANN. Section 25-9-120 (3) (a) (1972) exempts from the purview of the Personal Service Contract Review Board the following types of contracts:

- computer- or information technology-related services governed by the Department of Information Technology Services;
- personal service contracts entered into by the Department of Transportation; or,
- any contract for attorney, accountant, auditor, physician, dentist, architect, engineer, veterinarian, or utility rate expert services.

Public School Districts

No central oversight exists for school districts' procurement and utilization of independent contractors. This is a local issue left to the discretion of the individual school boards.

MISS. CODE ANN. Section 37-7-301 (o) (1972) gives school district boards the power to direct the superintendent of the districts to draw on available funds to issue payment for any lawful service. Furthermore, the statute gives school boards the ability to give full control of the "receipt, distribution, allotment and disbursement" of school funds (regardless of the origination of such funds) to support the operation of the schools in the district.

The State Department of Education exercises no central oversight of public school districts when they contract for personal services. The department gives the local school districts the autonomy to monitor the utilization and procurement of independent contractors.

Community and Junior Colleges

No central oversight exists for community and junior colleges' procurement and utilization of independent contractors. This is a local issue left to the discretion of the individual community and junior colleges.

MISS. CODE ANN. Section 37-4-1 (c) (1972) states that local entities are capable of efficiently and effectively governing the public community and junior colleges as well as serving the needs and accomplishing the priorities of the state. CODE Section 37-4-1 (k) (1972) further states that community and junior colleges are considered local government agencies rather than state government agencies.

The State Board for Community and Junior Colleges does not exercise any central oversight over the procurement and use of independent contractors by the individual community and junior colleges.

Universities

The Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning is responsible for approving any personal service contract that exceeds a cumulative total of $250,000.

MISS. CODE ANN. § 37-101-15 (a) (1972) gives the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning (IHL) the power to exercise control over the revenue collected on behalf of the eight institutions of higher learning. Furthermore, CODE Section 37-101-15 (c) (1972) gives the board the ability to adopt bylaws and regulations it deems necessary for the proper oversight of the eight institutions of higher learning as long as those bylaws and regulations do not conflict with the state Constitution and laws or the reason for the institutions' creation.

Section 707 of the Institutions of Higher Learning Board Policies and Bylaws (amended through February 15, 2006) provides that the board is required to approve any service contract whose cumulative or aggregate total expenditure is more than $250,000. "Aggregate total" refers to the total amount of a single contract regardless of the time span of the contract. For example, a three-year contract worth $300,000 goes to the board for approval, whereas a two-year contract for $225,000 is not subject to board approval.

Because any single contract that does not exceed $250,000 does not have to have IHL board approval, the responsibility of approving and monitoring contracts under $250,000 has been delegated to the individual institutions. It would be possible for an institution to have multiple contracts with the same independent contractor for the same type (or a similar type) of service, with individual contract amounts that are less than the $250,000 threshold, and these contracts would not have to go before the IHL board for approval, regardless of the fact that the cumulative total of the contract amounts might exceed $250,000.

The Commissioner of Higher Education has the power to continue to approve subsequent contracts with the same independent contractor that have been previously approved by the IHL board as long as the terms of the contract do not change and the amount of the contract does not increase more than ten percent from the previous contract (with the same independent contractor and scope of services). The IHL Board Policies and Bylaws (amended through February 15, 2006) require the IHL Executive Office to submit information to the board on a monthly basis listing all contracts approved by the commissioner on behalf of each institution.

Entities' FY 2006 Expenditures for Services of Independent Contractors, by Service Category

Overall, 328 entities reported that they spent $1,958,912,988 on independent contractors during FY 2006. The majority (56%) of entities' FY 2006 expenditures for independent contractors were in the Construction or Building Repair Services Category. Landscape or Lawn Care Services was the second highest category. Of this amount, the Department of Transportation reports to have spent approximately $159,000,000 (86% of the total spent in this category) on emergency relief measures, mainly due to Hurricane Katrina.

In Survey One, the entities PEER surveyed were asked to report expenditures for independent contractors (regardless of fund source) for FY 2006 in twenty-three different service categories. Officials were asked not to report expenditures to individuals, firms, corporations, or service providers that:

- have or will receive an IRS Form W2;
- only provided utility service; or;
- only provided commodities.

This chapter includes the results of Survey One.

Total Overall Expenditures for Independent Contractors

Overall, 328 entities reported that they spent $1,958,912,988 on independent contractors during FY 2006. Exhibit 1, page 13, lists the twenty-five entities from all groups (i.e., state agencies, public school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities) that spent the most overall for independent contractors.

See Appendix E, page 75, for an alphabetical listing of the 328 surveyed entities and their spending totals.

As shown in Exhibit 1, these twenty-five entities accounted for over 81% of all entities' expenditures for independent contractors in FY 2006.

Total Expenditures for Independent Contractors by Service Category

Exhibit 2, page 15, lists the Fiscal Year 2006 expenditure totals that entities reported by each of the twenty-three service categories. This exhibit lists the aggregate expenditure totals by service categories for all groups (i.e., state agencies, public school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities).

As shown in Exhibit 2, the majority (56%) of entities' FY 2006 expenditures for independent contractors were in the Construction or Building Repair Services Category. Landscape or Lawn Care Services was the second highest category. Of this amount, the Department of Transportation reports to have spent approximately $159,000,000 (86% of the total spent in this category) on emergency relief measures, mainly due to Hurricane Katrina.

As stated previously, the 328 entities surveyed were comprised of four groups: state agencies, public school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities. Exhibit 26, page 40, shows the self-reported amount spent per group and the percentage that amount represents of the overall total of reported expenditures for independent contractors.

Top Spenders for Independent Contractors in Each Group

Exhibit 27, page 41, through Exhibit 30, page 44, lists the top spenders in each group (e.g., state agencies, public school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities).

For state agencies and public school districts, the top twenty-five spenders are listed. For community and junior colleges and universities all the entities in the entire group are listed, because the group contains less than twentyfive.

Independent Contractors Receiving More than $1 Million in Payments from Entities in FY 2006

During Fiscal Year 2006, 225 independent contractors each received more than $1 million from all groups combined (i.e., state agencies, school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities).

In Survey Two, PEER asked entity officials to submit the names and corresponding amounts of the twenty-five independent contractors to which they paid the most to during FY 2006 and any independent contractor that their entity paid more than $100,000 that did not appear in the top twenty-five. This chapter lists that information.

PEER notes that independent contractors could have been paid by entities from each of the four groups (e.g., state agencies, public school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities). For example, an independent contractor could have received a $500,000 payment from a state agency; a $350,000 payment from a public school district; a $250,000 payment from a community college; and a $150,000 payment from a university, for a total of $1,250,000.

The chapter reports the information two different ways. First, PEER combined payments to independent contractors from all four groups and reported the amounts (e.g., $1,250,000 in the example above). Secondly, PEER reported payments to independent contractors by group (e.g., $500,000 from a state agency, $350,000 from public school district, $250,000 from a community college, and $150,000 from a university in the example above). Payments to contractors that total less than $100,000 and are outside the top twenty-five vendors from an entity would not be included in the following exhibits.

Totals Over $1 Million Paid to Independent Contractors in FY 2006, Combined

from All Four Entity Groups

During Fiscal Year 2006, 225 independent contractors each received more than $1 million from all groups combined (i.e., state agencies, school districts, community and junior colleges, and universities). The total amount paid to these 225 independent contractors was $1,502,638,368, representing approximately 77% of the total amount of all entities' expenditures for independent contractors during FY 2006.

*This bank serves as a trustee for a regional prison. As trustee, the bank receives the regional facility's revenue for housing prisoners. The regional prison makes a monthly draw for monthly operating expenses. Within the amount listed is the bank's service fee for serving as a trustee, which is not a material amount.

PEER Committee Survey of FY 2006 Expenditures for Professional Service Contractors

August 2006

Please submit your responses to PEER by September 15, 2006.

If you have difficulty submitting survey information, please contact the PEER Offices.

Complete the contact information section (questions 1-8).

1. User ID:	2. Password:
3. First Name:	4. Last Name:
5. Job Title:
6. E-Mail Address:	7. Area Code:
8. Telephone Number:

Complete Part One of the Survey (question 9).

Please submit information to PEER for amounts expended in FY 2006 for payments to vendors of professional services, not vendors of commodities. Use the following guidelines when completing the survey.

- Submit total expenditures in each of the service categories listed in Question 9 for FY 2006. Include the expenditure of funds from all sources--e.g. contractual services, subsidies, loans, and grants.
- Do not report payments to service contractors for a service not listed in Question 9.
- Do not report payments to individuals, firms, corporations or service providers that:
  - have or will receive an IRS Form W2;
  - o only provided utility service; or,

o only provided commodities.

• If your entity did not have any expenditures for professional service contractors for FY 2006, please enter "0" in each service category under question 9.

9. How much did your entity expend for each service category for FY 2006?

Complete Part Two of the Survey (questions 10-11).

You must submit responses for this portion of the survey electronically in an Excel spreadsheet format via e-mail. The information cannot be completed through this web address.

Use the following guidelines when submitting the information.

• Please format your information as follows:

Column 1 - Vendor Name Column 2 - Service Category* Column 3 - Total Expenditures** Column 4 - SAAS Vendor Number***

* If a vendor provides services in more than one PEER-designated service category, you should report the vendor in each applicable service category and the expenditures associated with each category.

For example, if Vendor A provided your entity with both training services and legal services, then Vendor A would be reported in the Education, Testing, or Training Services category and also in the Legal or Legal Support Services, with expenditures associated with each category reported separately.

- ** Total expenditures paid to the vendor for the service category specified in Column 2.
- *** SAAS Vendor Number is only required to be reported by entities utilizing the Statewide Automated Accounting System (SAAS).
- Submit the information in an Excel spreadsheet format via e-mail to Evaluator@peer.state.ms.us

- 10. For the service categories identified in this survey, please report the names and corresponding amounts of the twenty-five vendors to which your entity paid the most in FY 2006.
- 11. If your entity paid individual vendors more than $100,000 in FY 2006 and these vendors do not appear in the twenty-five vendors listed in response to question 10, please report the names of these vendors and the corresponding amounts.

Appendix B: List of Parent and Subunit Agencies Used for Reporting Purposes in PEER's Survey

As noted on page 3, PEER recognized that some state entities have organizational or management responsibilities for or control over other entities or budget units. For example, the Department of Mental Health is responsible for Hudspeth Regional Center, even though the center receives a line-item amount in the department's annual appropriation from the Legislature.

In order to account accurately for state entities' expenditures for independent contractors, PEER collected consolidated data from the "parent" entity in instances in which there were entities with "subunits."

The following is a list of parent units and their budgeted subunits. For the survey, PEER requested these parent entities break down their expenditures for independent contractors by subunit.

Appendix C: Internal Revenue Service Guidelines Regarding Independent Contractors

In Publication 15-A, Employer's Supplemental Tax Guide, the Internal Revenue Service Administration states that degree of control and degree of independence must be considered when making an employee-independent contractor determination. Facts that provide evidence fall into three categories: behavioral control, financial control, and the type of relationship of the parties. These facts are discussed below.

Behavioral Control. Facts that show whether the entity has a right to direct and control how the worker does the task for which the worker is hired include the type and degree of:

Instructions that the entity gives to the worker. An employee is generally subject to the entity's instructions about when, where, and how to work. The key consideration is whether the business has retained the right to control the details of a worker's performance or instead has given up that right. All of the following are examples of types of instructions about how to do work.

- When and where to do the work.
- What tools or equipment to use.
- What workers to hire or to assist with the work.
- Where to purchase supplies and services.
- What work must be performed by a specified individual.
- What order or sequence to follow.

Training that the business gives to the worker. An employee may be trained to perform services in a particular manner. Independent contractors ordinarily use their own methods.

Financial Control. Facts that show whether the entity has a right to control the business aspects of a job include:

The extent to which the worker has unreimbursed business expenses. Independent contractors are more likely to have unreimbursed expenses than are employees. Fixed ongoing costs that are incurred regardless of whether work is currently being performed are especially important. However, employees may also incur unreimbursed expenses in connection with the services that they perform for their entity.

The extent of the worker's investment. An independent contractor often has a significant investment in the facilities he or she uses in performing services for someone else.

The extent to which the worker makes his or her services available to the relevant market. An independent contractor is generally free to seek out business opportunities.

How the entity pays the worker. An employee is generally guaranteed a regular wage amount for an hour, week, or other period of time. An independent contractor is usually paid by a flat fee for the job. However, it is common in some professions, such as law, to pay independent contractors hourly.

The extent to which the worker can realize a profit or loss. An independent contractor can make a profit or loss.

Type of Relationship. Facts that show the parties' type of relationship include:

Written contracts describing the relationship the parties intended to create.

Whether or not the entity provides the worker with employee-type benefits, such as insurance, a pension plan, vacation pay, or sick pay.

The permanency of the relationship. If you engage a worker with the expectation that the relationship will continue indefinitely, rather than for a specific project or period, this is generally considered evidence that your intent was to create an employer-employee relationship.

The extent to which services performed by the worker are a key aspect of the regular business of the company. If a worker provides services that are a key aspect of your regular business activity, it is more likely that you will have the right to direct and control his/her activities.

Appendix D: The Department of Finance and Administration's Best Practices for Procurement of Personal Service Contracts

State agencies' contracts, depending on their dollar value (see page 8), are subject to the requirements of the Personal Service Contract Review Board.

For those agencies whose contracts are not under the purview of the board, and for public schools, community and junior colleges, and universities, the Department of Finance and Administration has published suggested "best practices" to serve as guidelines for entities' procurement of personal service contracts.

In procuring the services of an independent contractor, each entity should determine the applicability of the best practices to its particular situation.

The following are excerpts from the Department of Finance and Administration's Office of Purchase and Travel's Procurement Manual.

****

Determinations Required Prior to Use of Competitive Selection Procedures

The Procurement Officer or his designee shall determine in writing, prior to contracting for any such services:

- (1) That a reasonable inquiry has been conducted, which shall include requesting the department to report on the availability of such personnel, and the using agency does not have the personnel nor resources to perform the services required under the proposed contract, or that the service can be performed more economically by other than state personnel.
- (2) The nature of the relationship to be established between the using agency and the contractor by the proposed contract.
- (3) That the using agency has developed and fully intends to implement a written plan for utilizing such services which will be included in the contractual statement of work.

Request for Proposals

Contents

The Request for Proposals shall be in the form specified by the Procurement Officer and contain at least the following information:

- (1) The type of services required.
- (2) A description of the work involved.
- (3) An estimate of when and for how long the services will be required.
- (4) The type of contract to be used.
- (5) A date by which proposals for the performance of the services shall be submitted.
- (6) A statement that the proposals shall be in writing.
- (7) A statement that offerers may designate those portions of the proposals which contain trade secrets or other proprietary data which may remain confidential.
- (8) A statement of the minimum information that the proposal shall contain, to include:
  - (a) the name of the offerer, the location of the offerer's principal place of business and, if different, the place of performance of the proposed contract;
  - (b) if deemed relevant by the Procurement Officer, the age of the offerer's business and average number of employees over a previous period of time, as specified in the Request for Proposals;
  - (c) the abilities, qualifications, and experience of all persons who would be assigned to provide the required services;
  - (d) a listing of other contracts under which services similar in scope, size, or discipline to the required services were performed or undertaken within a previous period of time, as specified in the Request for Proposals; and

- (e) a plan giving as much detail as is practical explaining how the services will be performed.
- (9) The factors to be used in the evaluation and selection process and their relative importance.

Evaluation

Proposals shall be evaluated only on the basis of evaluation factors stated in the Request for Proposals. The following factors may be appropriate to use in conducting the evaluation. The relative importance of these and other factors will vary according to the type of services being procured. The minimum factors are:

- (1) The plan for performing the required services.
- (2) Ability to perform the services as reflected by technical training and education, general experience, specific experience in providing the required services, and the qualifications and abilities of personnel proposed to be assigned to perform the services.
- (3) The personnel, equipment, and facilities to perform the services currently available or demonstrated to be made available at the time of contracting.
- (4) A record of past performance of similar work.

Pre-Proposal Conferences

Pre-Proposal conferences, as appropriate, may be conducted in accordance with Section 3.202.08 (Pre-Bid Conferences – not included in this report). Such a conference may be held any time prior to the date established for submission of proposals.

Receipt and Handling of Proposals

Registration

Proposals and modifications shall be date-stamped or time/date-stamped upon receipt and held in a secure place until the established due date. Proposals shall not be opened publicly nor disclosed to unauthorized persons but shall be opened in the presence of two or more procurement officials. A Register of Proposals shall be established which shall include for all proposals, the name of each offerer, the number of modifications received, if any, and a description sufficient to identify the services offered. The Register of Proposals shall be open to public inspection only after award of the contract. Proposals of offerers who are not awarded the contract shall not be open to public inspection.

Requests for Nondisclosure of Data

If the offerer selected for award has requested in writing the nondisclosure of trade secrets and other proprietary data so identified, the Procurement Officer or a designee of such officer shall examine the request in the proposal to determine its validity prior to entering negotiations. If the parties do not agree as to the disclosure of data in the contract, the Procurement Officer or a designee of such officer shall inform the offerer in writing what portion of the proposal will be disclosed and that, unless the offerer withdraws the proposal or protests under Chapter 9 (Legal and Contractual Remedies) of the Mississippi Procurement Code, the proposal will be disclosed.

Discussion

Discussions Permissible

The Procurement Officer or a designee of such officer shall evaluate all proposals submitted and may conduct discussions with any offerer. The purposes of such discussions shall be to:

- (a) determine in greater detail such offerer's qualifications; and,
- (b) explore with the offerer the scope and nature of the required services, the offerer's proposed method of performance, and the relative utility of alternative methods of approach.

It is considered desirable for the person conducting the discussions to keep a record of the date, place, and purpose of the meeting and those attending.

No Disclosure of Information

Discussions shall not disclose any information derived from proposals submitted by other offerers, and the agency conducting the procurement shall not disclose any information contained in any proposals until after award of the proposed contract has been made. The proposal of the offerer awarded the contract shall be open to public inspection except as otherwise provided in the contract. (See Receipt and Handling of Proposals, Registration Section).

Modification or Withdrawal of Proposals

Proposals may be modified or withdrawn at any time prior to the conclusion of discussions.

Selection of the Best Qualified Offerers

After conclusion of validation of qualifications, evaluation, and discussion as provided in the discussion section, the Procurement Officer or a designee of such officer shall select, in the order of their respective qualification ranking, no fewer than three acceptable offerers (or such lesser number if less than three acceptable proposals were received) deemed to be the best qualified to provide the required services.

Negotiation and Award of Contract

General

The Procurement Officer or a designee of such officer shall negotiate a contract with the best qualified offerer for the required services at compensation determined in writing to be fair and reasonable.

Elements of Negotiation

Contract negotiations shall be directed toward:

- (a) making certain that the offerer has a clear understanding of the scope of the work, specifically, the essential requirements involved in providing the required services;
- (b) determining that the offerer will make available the necessary personnel and facilities to perform the services within the required time; and
- (c) agreeing upon compensation which is fair and reasonable, taking into account the estimated value of the required services, and the scope, complexity, and nature of such services.

Successful Negotiation of Contract with Best Qualified Offerer

If compensation, contract requirements, and contract documents can be agreed upon with the best qualified offerer, the contract shall be awarded to that offerer.

Failure to Negotiate Contract with Best Qualified Offerer

- (1) If compensation, contract requirements, or contract documents cannot be agreed upon with the best qualified offerer, a written record stating the reasons therefor shall be placed in the file and the Procurement Officer or a designee of such officer shall advise such offerer of the termination of negotiations which shall be confirmed by written notice within three days.
- (2) Upon failure to negotiate a contract with the best qualified offerer, the Procurement Officer or the designee of such officer may enter into negotiations with the next most qualified offerer. If compensation, contract requirements, and contract documents can be agreed upon, then the contract shall be awarded to that offerer. If negotiations again fail, negotiations shall be terminated as provided in subsection (1) of this Section and commenced with the next most qualified offerer.

Notice of Award

Written notice of award shall be public information and made a part of the contract file.

Failure to Negotiate Contract with Offerers Initially Selected as Best Qualified

Should the Procurement Officer or a designee of such officer be unable to negotiate a contract with any of the offerers initially selected as the best qualified offerers, offers may be resolicited or additional offerers may be selected based on original, acceptable submissions in the order of their respective qualification ranking, and negotiations may continue in accordance with "Failure to Negotiate Contract with Best Qualified Offerer" section until an agreement is reached and the contract awarded.

Memorandum of Evaluation and Negotiation

At the conclusion of negotiations resulting in the award of the contract, the Procurement Officer or a designee of such officer shall prepare a memorandum setting forth the basis of award including:

- (a) how the evaluation factors stated in the Request for Proposals were applied to determine the best qualified offerers; and
- (b) the principal elements of the negotiations including the significant considerations relating to price and the other terms of the contract.

All memoranda shall be included in the contract file and be available in accordance with the State Freedom of Information Laws.

Appendix E: Alphabetical List of All Entities Surveyed and Their Totals Spent on Independent Contractors for Fiscal Year 2006

The following table is an alphabetical listing of all 328 entities that PEER surveyed for this review and the total amounts each spent on independent contractors.

The second column denotes to which group the entity belongs (i.e., state agencies, school districts, community and junior colleges, or universities). The third column, "Overall Ranking," gives the numerical ranking of the entity of all entities' expenditures for independent contractors in FY 2006 (in descending order by total expenditure).
